

SPEAKERS

Associate Professor Pantipa Chatchatee

Prof. Division of Allergy & Immunology, Department of Pediatrics, Chulalongkorn University, Bangkok, Thailand. She graduated from Chulalongkorn University medical school in 1987 and completed her pediatric residency in 1993. She went on to complete two Allergy And Immunology Fellows from Duke University Medical Center in 1998 and Jaffe Food Allergy Research Institute at Mount Sinai School of Medicine in New York in 2000. She has been a member of the Allergy and immunology Society of Thailand since 1994 and has been actively involved in more than 30 publications over the years covering topic such as food and house dust mite allergies as well as immunotherapy.

Kerstin Wall

Senior Expert and Scientific Advisor in Allergy at Thermo Fisher Scientific, Uppsala, Sweden since 1990. 13 years' experience at the Allergy clinic and laboratory in Gothenburg with a year as a University lecturer. Graduated in 1976 as a Biomedical technician (microbiology, immunology, virology, biochemistry), from the Inst. for Biomedical Laboratory Science, University of Gothenburg, Sweden. Her position at Thermo Fisher Scientific encompasses education and clinical utility/interpretation of allergy in vitro tests. She is also an experienced lecturer, invited by many allergy societies/organizations around the world.